AMY CHILDERS

PURSUING: SCHOOL PSYCHOLOGY, S.S.P.

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION, CRIMINAL JUSTICE, & PSYCHOLOGY

SOUTHERN ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY- CARBONDALE, '08

Amy decided to attend WCU because of the School Psychology Graduate Program and her love of the mountains. She quickly developed relationships and connections through the S.S.P Program and has enjoyed getting to know her cohort and professors. As a proud member of the queer community, Amy has been blown away by the accepting, supportive, and encouraging psychology faculty. She was placed within the Henderson County Public Schools system for her practicum and has absolutely loved the experience. Amy hopes to complete an internship in the St. Louis area, then return to Asheville to start her career as a school psychologist. She warns students that their time at WCU will fly by faster than they realize and to soak up every moment and all the available experiences.
